Democrats Favor Works Bill to Tax Cut

Spending Byrd's Plan on Economy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) said today he believes most Democrats in Congress prefer a sound public works program instead of tax cuts to combat the business slump.

Byrd, a leading economy advocate in Congress, made it clear in an interview that he would favor more spending to tax reductions if the economy does not turn upward and the choice of alternatives must be made.

Sees Some Waste
"To some extent there will be wasteful spending in accelerating public works," he said. "But I am confident the majority of Democrats in Congress would rather follow that course than to reduce taxes now."

President Eisenhower, who has delayed any decision on taxes, asked Congress yesterday for an emergency appropriation of 125 million dollars to speed up river and harbor projects and $64,200,000 for hospital construction.

It included one million dollars for Oswego Harbor detached breakwaters, instead of $500,000 as previously recommended, and a new appropriation of two million dollars for the north entrance of Buffalo Harbor.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the request for the funds, to be spent in the year beginning July 1, was aimed at helping lift the level of employment.

Approval Certain
Congressional approval of the request was regarded as a foregone conclusion.

Amid indications that Eisenhower will postpone any final decision on taxes until some time in April, Byrd said it was his understanding that any reduction proposals would be advanced on a bipartisan basis.

Meanwhile, the Senate has turned back a drive by some of its members for quick cuts in personal income and excise taxes. These senators contend such cuts are the fastest way to revive the economy by putting more spending money into the hands of consumers.

Rider Moves Fast
During two days of lengthy sessions, a small Senate group, numbering both Democrats and Republicans, tried without success to tack broad tax cut riders to a bill that would save life insurance companies 124 million dollars on 1957 taxes.

That insurance bill was passed by the Senate last night, 61-19, but most of the debate revolved around the efforts to slash individual income levies and excise taxes on such things as automobiles.

The Senate yesterday rejected by voice vote a proposal by Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) to reduce excise taxes by $2,200,000,000.

Exemption Bid Loses
It also defeated, by a 64-19 roll call vote a proposed amendment by Sen. Yarborough (D-Tex.) to raise individual income tax exemptions from $600 to $800 for the remainder of 1958.

Just before quitting last night, the Senate passed, 76-1, a resolution calling on the Pentagon to expedite construction of $1,715,000,000.

COP to Provide Money to Pay for Educational TV

ALBANY (AP)—Republican legislative leaders agreed today to provide the money for a Board of Regents' plan to beam daytime educational programs in the New York metropolitan area.

It would be the state's first full-scale experiment with educational television. Station WOR-TV would be used.

An estimated $369,912 is needed to carry out the plan for the school year that begins Sept. 1. The programs would run from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. weekdays and from 9 a. m. to noon on Saturdays.

In future years, the state would pay $365,000 a year to lease all the station's facilities and an additional $180,000 to cover costs of programming and administration.

The facilities include a recording machine that could make the programs available for distribution to television stations upstate.

WOR-TV, which telecasts on Channel 9, has a potential audience of about 15 million persons. The programs would be designed for elementary and high school pupils and students in the first and second years of college.

Red Boss Warns of Tampering

Khrushy in New Bid for Summit

MOSCOW (AP)—Warning that Russia will block any Western attempt to tamper with Eastern Europe, Nikita Khrushchev pressed anew last night for a summit conference on Soviet terms.

In a blistering speech climaxing the campaign for Russia's one-party parliamentary elections tomorrow, the Communist Party chief denounced as "insulting" President Eisenhower's proposal to include in a summit parley the issue of East Europe.

Won't Desert Friends
Khrushchev told 14,000 cheering followers in Moscow's sports palace that "in the event of any new attempt from abroad to change the status of the Socialist (Communist) countries by force, we will not leave our friends in the lurch."

Shortly before Khrushchev spoke, the Foreign Ministry proposed moving back the time of a summit parley from June to July. The ministry renewed proposals that a foreign ministers' meeting be held next month to decide the agenda of a top level conference.

The West has rejected Soviet limitations on foreign ministers' discussions and refused to set a date for any summit meeting until agreement can be reached on its topics.

Soviet Holding Fast
Khrushchev declared Russia would hold to its determination to keep German unification off any summit agenda. Reunification would work itself out, he said, if foreign troops were withdrawn from Europe and both German governments were given a chance to establish normal relations.

A West German government spokesman indicated in Bonn that it would be willing to drop its demand that unification be placed on the summit agenda if the talks are confined to disarmament.

Russia voiced formal objections yesterday against debating disarmament in the U. N. Security Council. But Western diplomats held hope the Soviets would attend such a session.

NATO to Get Plans
In Paris it was disclosed that the United States, Britain and France will submit their thoughts on a summit conference to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization within a few days. Foreign Minister Christian Pineau said the plan to be submitted to NATO "would involve a foreign ministers conference and would also permit a detailed preparation of questions to be discussed between chiefs of governments."

VFW Will Honor Shurter As Top Citizen of Year

Howard C. Shurter, director of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency since March 1947, has been named for the Citizen of the Year award in an unanimous ballot by Joyce-Schrick Post, 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

A testimonial for the Kingston native will be held sometime in April at which time Shurter will receive his award, Ralph Seism, senior vice-commander of the VFW, said today.

Shurter's selection for the annual award marks the first time a past post commander of the VFW has ever been so honored, Seism told The Freeman.

Chamber Head Feels Slump Is Half Over

WASHINGTON (AP)—The new president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce believes the recession is about half over and will be cured "primarily in the market place rather than on Capitol Hill."

He is William A. McDonnell of St. Louis, a well built man of 63 who has a genial manner and keen sense of humor.

Elected Friday
McDonnell, board chairman of the First National Bank of St. Louis, was elected Chamber president yesterday after serving as treasurer of the nationwide business organization. He takes over on April 29 from Philip M. Talbot, Washington department store executive.

Talking with reporters after his election, McDonnell summed up his views on the business slump. Frowning on what he called "rash" or "panicky" cures which might be inflationary, he called for:

1. Labor and management to get together and "put an end to this wage-price spiral."

2. A three-billion-dollar cut in individual income and corporation taxes to give business some incentive to risk expansion and to increase the "creative energies" of the people.

Sees End Next Fall
McDonnell said if "we do not do anything rash, we ought to be coming out of this recession some time next fall." He said the recovery will be gradual, not abrupt. Stepped-up public works spending, he added, might do some good but the "benefits are overrated."

McDonnell's views generally jibe with those of the Chamber, which not only favors tax reduction regardless of the recession, but wants about three billion dollars lopped off the Eisenhower administration's 74-billion dollar budget for the fiscal year starting July 1.

He and his Chamber associates are dead set against deficit spending. That philosophy has been one of the strongest characteristics of McDonnell's adult life. He believes governments and the individuals should live within their incomes.

Bookstein to Rule On Snyder Friday

An order to show cause why Patrolman William F. Snyder, suspended from the police department last July 16, should not be reinstated to the force is returnable before Supreme Court Justice Isador Bookstein at special term in Troy Friday, March 21.

The show cause order was signed by Justice Kenneth S. MacAffer on March 12.

Suspended Last July
Patrolman Snyder was suspended from the force on July 16 when, on advice of counsel, declined, to sign a waiver of immunity and testify before the grand jury.

Two days later after consulting with other counsel and on July 18 he did sign a waiver and appeared before the grand jury. Under the show cause order he seeks to compel the police commissioners of the City of Kingston to reinstate him to duty or take appropriate action as required by law.

Snyder, appointed to the force on March 1, 1954, contends that numerous oral and written demands have been made for reinstatement or that he be granted a hearing as required by provisions of the civil service law.

It is alleged that the delay and refusal of Mayor Edwin F. Radel, as president of the police board, or the police commissioners, or their predecessors to take action was based on a statement that they wished to await a copy of the grand jury minutes and the report of the Reuter investigating commission.

No Action Taken
Both of these have been in the hands of city officials for some time and no action has been taken toward reinstatement or lodging of charges against Patrolman Snyder, it is reported.

Snyder alleges he has not been charged with any misconduct and that there have been no charges of nonfeasance or misfeasance made against him since his suspension.

Cites Hardships
He charges that the continued suspension not only has caused him to lose earnings, seniority and retirement rights but that the widespread publicity attributing crime, misconduct, nonfeasance and misfeasance to him has caused him financial and social hardships.

Assemble at 11 a. m.
The plan is to meet in the high school auditorium at 11 a. m. Tuesday, March 25. After a 45 minute program the large group will be divided into smaller units, each of which will visit one of the 10 schools. Each school will be host to the group for lunch, classes will be visited, including a tour of the building, and a discussion period. The affair will be held at 11 a. m. (Continued on Page 5, Col. 4)

Will Break Ground For Temple Sunday

Ground-breaking ceremonies are scheduled Sunday noon for the new $325,000 synagogue to be erected on Albany Avenue by the congregation of Temple Emanuel.

Dr. Herbert I. Bloom, who recently celebrated his 25th anniversary as rabbi of the congregation, will preside over the program in which three generations are to be represented.

Mrs. Ida Wolff and Raphael Cohen will represent the older members of the congregation. Miss Ellen Goldfarb, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Goldfarb, will take part for the third generation.

The new building at 243 Albany Avenue, which will also house a religious school, will replace the present edifice on Abel Street erected more than 65 years ago.

Will Seek To Reverse Death Term

LaMarca Action Is Due Wednesday

MINEOLA (AP)—The attorney for Angelo LaMarca yesterday served notice on Nassau County District Attorney Frank A. Gulotta that he will argue for a reversal of LaMarca's death sentence next Wednesday before County Judge Paul J. Widlitz.

LaMarca is now in the death house at Sing Sing Prison. He was scheduled to die in the electric chair the week of Feb. 24 for the kidnapping and murder of month-old Peter Weinberger.

LaMarca's lawyer, David M. Markowitz of Manhattan, served notice yesterday that he will seek Widlitz' permission for a hearing to prove his claim that it was impossible to find unprejudiced jurors in Nassau County.

Asks Prompt Action
Last month, Federal Judge Edward J. Dimock granted LaMarca's fifth stay of execution. Dimock made the stay indefinite but asked for prompt action by state courts in reviewing LaMarca's latest plea to reverse his death sentence.

Chinese Reds Pull Out
TOKYO (AP)—The first trainload of Chinese Communist soldiers to leave North Korea as part of a general withdrawal departed today from Pyongyang, the North Korean radio reported.

Earlier this week headquarters of the "Chinese Peoples Volunteers" announced the first six divisions—about 80,000 men—would leave North Korea between March 15 and April 30.

Poison Angle Hinted In Death of GI Agent

TOKYO (AP)—The U. S. Army said today one of its intelligence agents whose body was found floating in Tokyo Bay may have been poisoned after handing his insurance policy to his wife and disappearing.

M. Sgt. Emmet E. Dugan, 39, of Crafton, Pa., left his wife Feb. 4 in a Tokyo hotel with the policy and personal papers, saying: "If I don't return, you'll need these."

Missing Five Weeks
His body was found last Wednesday five weeks later. The Army said there were indications he was dead before hitting the water more than two weeks ago.

Japanese newspaper speculation ranged from the possibility that Dugan was murdered while investigating Chinese Communists in Japan to a Japanese police report he had been undergoing psychiatric treatment.

As usual, the Army maintained a tight silence on Dugan's work as an intelligence agent. But a spokesman termed Dugan "a fine soldier" and denied he had any psychiatric troubles. The infantry veteran had finished Chinese language training last year and was assigned to an intelligence unit for the first time.

The Army said Dugan and his wife, Maud, came to Tokyo Feb. 4 by train from Camp Zama near Yokohama. The sergeant had received a pass to visit the capital.

That night he left his wife at a hotel, handed over his insurance policy and papers and told her to return to their home in Yokohama. His wife said they planned to borrow money on the policy.

Then, the Army said, Dugan went to an Army camp north of Tokyo, drew $40 in advance pay and sold his typewriter to a Japanese dealer for $22. He stopped at the camp's noncommissioned officers' club, lost $39 playing slot machines and vanished. There was no wallet on the body.

Dugan was first listed as absent without leave but on March 1 this was changed to missing because the Army was convinced he was absent through no fault of his own.

Mrs. Dugan, a former Red Cross worker he met in Korea, has returned to Crafton.

Mishaps Are Few In 6-Inch Fall

Five or six inches of wet, heavy snow laid a ponderous weight on Kingston and Ulster County Friday, cracking off limbs and snapping utility lines throughout the area.

Vehicular mishaps were at a minimum as motorists proceeded with caution but hundreds of families were without electricity, heat or telephones.

The Weather Bureau in Albany this morning said the late-winter storm swirled out to sea today leaving Eastern New York soggy snow that reached 25 inches deep in the Catskills.

Some to Get More
Some parts of the state were in for more of the white stuff, the AP said, with up to six inches due in parts of the St. Lawrence and Champlain Valleys and in the Adirondacks.

Elsewhere, little accumulation was expected. Crews worked around the clock to repair broken lines—snapped by falling limbs and sheer weight of snow. Repairs were well advanced this morning with restoration of service to all customers anticipated during the day.

'Hot' Wires Down
A number of "hot" wires were reported down throughout the area but there were no incidents.

The snow, which began falling in the early morning hours Friday, reached depths up to 25 inches in some mountain areas, according to reports.

Despite the heavy snowfall, which clogged approaches to Belleayre Mountain Ski Center, a number of hardy skiers were reported at the lodge this morning and among those expected later in the day was Governor Harriman and a party from Albany.

Lack of heat and electric current for cooking stoves drove a number of people in the Saugerties area, to restaurants for dinner last night. Some families without heat reportedly spent the night in motels in the area.

Sedan, Bus Collide
The only vehicular mishap reported in the area was at Thruway Mile Post 79.9, town of New Paltz, shortly before noon Friday when a 1955 sedan and a 1952 GMC bus, owned by the Pine Hill-Kingston Bus Corp. of Kingston, were in collision.

Harvey H. Pierce, 46, of High Point, N. C., driver of the sedan, was taken to Kingston Hospital by Schultz Ambulance with multiple bruises and a laceration of the forehead. He was reported in good condition.

Trooper Garramone reported that the sedan was proceeding north about 20 MPH when it spun around in the snow and was in head-on collision with the bus, also proceeding north. The bus was operated by William T. Swartz, 44, of Route 28, Shokan.

None of 7 Hurt
There were seven persons in the bus, including Helen Bultrick of Woodstock, but none claimed injuries.

There were a couple of minor vehicular accidents in Kingston, several hot wires were reported down and lights were out in the East Chester Street area for several hours. A number of limbs reportedly fell Friday under the weight of snow.

Lights were out in the West Shokan area from about 3 p. m. Friday to 2 a. m. Saturday. People in that section were reportedly without power for several hours. (Continued on Page 5, Col. 3)

PROCLAIMS LIBRARY DAY—Mayor Edwin F. Radel (seated) proclaims Sunday as Library Day when the Kingston City Library will be open from 3 to 5 p. m. to preview a new facility—the children's library. Observing the ceremony are (l-r) Mrs. William D. Markle, children's librarian; Gifford Beal and Attorney Hugh Elwyn, members of the library's board of trustees. National Library Week will be observed March 16-22. Mayor Radel urged residents to inspect the facilities of the new children's library "which will serve specifically those children in the age group from pre-school through sixth grade. Delaware DA Is Quitting; Cited For Tax Evasion

ALBANY (AP)—Gleason B. Speenburgh, Delaware County district attorney recently convicted of income tax evasion, will quit the office April 15.

Governor Harriman announced Speenburgh's resignation yesterday.

No Elaboration
There was no elaboration on the resignation from the governor's office. However, Speenburgh conferred twice this week with the governor's counsel, Daniel Gutman. Both meetings were at Gutman's request.

The Democratic governor will appoint a successor to serve the remainder of the Republican district attorney's term. It expires Dec. 31.

Last Feb. 25, Speenburgh pleaded guilty to a federal charge of filing a fraudulent income tax return.

On Job Since 1937
Speenburgh, 50, has served as district attorney since 1937. A special district attorney, Richard Farley, has been appointed for the duration of a current grand jury session.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

Jerusalem—It was twilight. I walked in the Garden of Gethsemane.

A green-headed lizard stood motionless on the grey trunk of an olive tree which may have been a shoot of one that shaded Christ in His agony. The air was moist and drenched. A cricket chirped. Two Arab women came and drew water from the well. The sky turned from red, purple, blue to grey. There was the soft clatter of donkey hoofs and, in the distance, the yelp of a dog. Then it was dark and a single star appeared. There were deep, diffused shadows in the Garden. The top of the foliage was touched with silver.

Save for the modern sounds of the highway, this might have been like the night when Christ prayed, Father, "if it be possible, let this cup pass from Me; nevertheless not My will but Thine be done." (Matt. 26:39)

NEEDED: ACCENT ON SPORTS

In the last six months Americans have taken such a pounding for their real and alleged shortcomings in science and other fields that they must be getting weary. Now they're even being accused of lagging in sports, a domain they have come to think of as peculiarly their own.

To be sure, nobody is challenging the New York Yankees, except the Milwaukee Braves and other assorted National Leaguers. But baseball and football seem to be just about our only safe areas.

U.S. officials touring Europe as a preliminary to the 1960 Olympics say flatly we may suddenly turn up among the also-rans if we don't show some new imagination and spirit.

In two vital matters—the financial support we give our teams and the training methods we use—both sports officials and American athletes who competed recently in ski contests in Finland agree we are being rapidly outdistanced by other nations.

And they don't mean just the Russians, either. The Australians, with a total population hardly equal to that of metropolitan New York City, are world champions in tennis and swimming and are starting to cut a sizable swath in track competition.

They go trooping off to the tennis courts and swimming pools in astonishing numbers. They start young and give it everything.

Many countries prepare long and carefully for major world events like the Olympics. They send advance guards to compile useful data.

In Russia, of course, the government dictates this kind of effort. In some other places, government lends a hand. We frown on any hint of compulsion, and properly. But the alternative isn't the half-hearted approach.

It's not as if we were fully and wisely occupied in other ways. We don't demand too much school work from our youngsters. Author William Faulkner observed recently that after school hours "the kids today simply have nothing to do with themselves."

Education itself obviously needs more attention and, of course, it comes first. But we're not likely to hurt ourselves if our youngsters start pitching into sports with some of that drive and concentration we're supposed to be famous for.

If between family and school we manage to spur this kind of effort, it won't mean we've suddenly made sports a business, as the Russians have. It could mean we're just playing hard. That's the way we ought to work, too.

HIGH PRICE OF MEAT

A House of Representatives agriculture subcommittee has focused some rather disconcerting light on a subject of interest to all consumers. It says that meat processing and distribution costs have increased 42 per cent in the past decade. It ascribes part of this rise to the meat industry's failure to develop more efficient methods of operation.

Doubtless the meat industry will defend itself, and perhaps convincingly, against this charge. All the same, consumers will benefit by thorough discussion of the matter. They will benefit even more if the government acts on the committee's call for a federal research program aimed at cutting meat prices by reducing costs of processing and distribution. Such costs are a major part of our food bills.

ODD TRAFFIC THEORY

A somewhat astonishing statement on traffic safety was offered the other day by the president of the Automobile Club of New York, William Gottlieb.

He said that most motorists drive as safely as conditions permit, and that the real complaint should be against "bad roads, bad laws and bad theories."

Unquestionably he is concerned as earnestly as all of us with promoting safety. The consensus among the traffic experts, however, is that the human factor bulks

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
THE TEN COMMANDMENTS

It is curious what men will fight over. In the New York State Legislature a bill has been introduced authorizing the posting of the Ten Commandments in each school. There is nothing subversive in the Ten Commandments. There is nothing in them to impair the morals of the young. Actually the Ten Commandments in one form or another is the foundation of most religions and of most ethical systems. It is a statement in simple form of the basic moral law of the human race.

Why should men quarrel over that? Are our children so perfect, are their lives so righteous that it is unnecessary for them to have further instruction? Well, the atheists raise the old argument about church and state. It is permissible to teach the young rock-n-roll but not the word of God in any translation. As the Ten Commandments come down to us, in our civilization, they are translated from the Hebrew in Deuteronomy 5. Anything that is translated from one language to another, or by one author or another, may have some slight variations. I have read the Hebrew, Protestant and Catholic versions and they all come to the same thing.

Now matter how you state, "Thou shalt not kill," it means precisely that. Of course, "Thou shalt not commit adultery" may be offensive to some folks. The daughter of a broken home with a father or mother on the make, might ask what is adultery to the great embarrassment of either parent. But there can be no misunderstanding as to what the meaning is and no one has ever stated the case in simpler terms.

"Honor thy father and thy mother" may run counter to some current sociological notions about all parents being jealous of their children and all about Oedipus complexes and other rubbish. But the fact is that when the family system is strong, society is sound; when the family system collapses, we get such teen-age horrors as we now suffer from. Thus far, man has found no substitute for the family system.

There is some slight difference in words but not in meaning between the Revised Edition of the Protestants and the Douay version of the Roman Catholics. I shall here give the three versions in English of the Commandment about honoring parents:

1. The Jewish Publication Society version in English (1917):

"Honour thy father and thy mother, as the Lord thy God commanded thee; that thy days may be long, and that it may go well with thee, upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee."

2. Revised Edition of King James version, Oxford University Press, Protestant:

"Honour thy father and thy mother, as the Lord thy God hath commanded thee; that thy days may be prolonged, and that it may go well with thee, in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee."

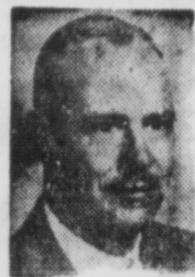

3. Douay version, Catholic Book Publishing Company, Roman Catholic:

"Honour thy father and mother, as the Lord thy God hath commanded thee, that thou mayest live a long time, and it will be well with thee in the land, which the Lord thy God will give thee."

And if my teletypewriter could manage it, I would quote it in the original text in Hebrew and you would find that the translations are not bad at all. At any rate, they convey the idea pretty clearly and if the child asked an intelligent adult what it all meant, the adult ought to be able to explain it to him without withdrawing the child from the parents' beliefs, disbeliefs, superstitions or agnosticism.

It is hardly believable that in this day men should quarrel over exposing children to the sight of the Ten Commandments, but they do. They do not object to their children looking at vulgar exhibitions of sex on television, but if a child sees the Ten Commandments posted in a classroom without the symbols of particular faiths, without crests or Menorah, somehow it is an impairment of the First Amendment to the Constitution, which surely does not appear in the English of the Constitution. Or maybe, we no longer use English. Maybe we use some combination of tongues as they did in the Tower of Babel.

At any rate, the more one thinks in terms of our children, the more confusing are the views held by the authors of our present teen-age distress. (Copyright, 1958, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

★ Dr. Jordan Says ★ Dread of Leprosy Is Worse Than the Disease Itself

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

About a year ago the magazine called World Health, published by the World Health Organization, presented a short article entitled "New Hope for Lepers."

Nobody really knows, this article pointed out, how many victims of leprosy there are in the world. In 1952 it was estimated at between two and seven million, but this was revised in 1956 to 10 or 11 million.

These figures do not mean that there has been an alarming increase in the disease. Rather, it is a reflection of the fact that treatment is now so successful that many victims who formerly were terrified and hid their affliction now are coming in for medical aid.

Leprosy has never been a dangerous problem in North America. There are probably not more than 5,000 residents of the United States who have this disease, and a large number of these have it in such mild form that it would not be noticed.

RECENTLY Z. M. has written to ask about the contagiousness of leprosy and the chances for recovery.

Actually, the disease is only mildly contagious. The blind fear of the Middle Ages was certainly not a reflection of the fact that treatment is now so successful that many victims who formerly were terrified and hid their affliction now are coming in for medical aid.

It is true that isolation from others after diagnosis has been made is often recommended, but I believe the States of New York and Vermont do not even require that the disease be reported, and Massachusetts does not have any restrictions concerning isolation of patients.

From the standpoint of treatment the outlook is now greatly improved. A group of drugs technically known as sulfones have great value.

I SHOULD like to say something about the excellent hospital for victims of leprosy at Carville, Louisiana. Not only has the medical work there been of extraordinary high caliber, but the patients have contributed greatly to the understanding of the disease. They publish a fine magazine called "The Star" and hold dances and baseball games.

On previous occasions I have received correspondence requesting me to use the name Hansen's disease instead of leprosy. The reason for this request is that the word leprosy is so feared.

However, it would not be possible for me to discuss Hansen's disease without mentioning leprosy since few readers would know what I was talking about.

So please discard the image of leprosy as an awful and incurable disease!

very, very large in the accident fatality picture.

It would be interesting to hear what evidence Gottlieb offers in support of this notion. He hasn't much company right now.

A Cage Within a Cage

Washington News

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — (NEA)—There's increasing pressure to take more of the money now going into foreign aid programs and channel it into the U. S. economy to relieve the current business recession. Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif.) has taken the lead on this proposal in Congress.

The idea listens good to people who are opposed to foreign aid in the first place, and who think there should be bigger handouts to U. S. depressed areas in the second place.

Such opinions may, however, be based on a couple of mistaken impressions. What isn't generally appreciated is that nearly 85 per cent of all foreign aid funds have been spent in the United States during the last 10 years.

Cut back on foreign aid programs would therefore mean that less federal money would be spent at home.

FOREIGN AID is, of course, divided into two main categories—military and economic. From the time the Marshall Plan began in 1948 through the fiscal year ending next June 30, nearly 70 billion dollars worth of aid will have been given. Of this, 45 billion has been military aid and 25 billion economic aid—in round numbers.

Nearly 60 billion dollars of this money has been spent in the United States in the first instance. The approximately 10 billion dollars spent for overseas supplies have been divided seven billion for economic aid, three billion for military supplies. These figures do not include overseas purchase by U. S. armed forces for their own use.

PRINCIPAL MILITARY supply items purchased overseas for allied countries are lumped in what is known as "offshore procurement." The idea of starting this was, first to buy in cheaper markets and so save U. S. taxpayers' money, second to build up allied defense production capacity.

Of the three billion dollars that have gone into offshore procurement, 2.6 billion were spent from 1952 to 1957. Since then, the program has been cut sharply.

It was 166 billion dollars in 1955, down to 72 million in 1956, up again to 143 million in 1957, but only $700,000 in the first six months of the current fiscal year.

BIGGEST ITEM in the 25 billion dollars worth of economic assistance furnished in the last 10 years has been over nine billion dollars worth of U. S. farm products. Nearly seven billion dollars of this was surplus commodities.

Cut off the appropriations for this and it would not only wreck the surplus disposal plan—it would build up surplus again, increase storage costs and may depress U. S. farm prices still further.

Other principal items of foreign economic aid include four billion dollars worth of raw materials, three billion dollars worth of machinery and vehicles, mostly made in U.S.A., 2.5 billion dollars worth of fuel, a billion dollars worth of miscellaneous commodities and four billion dollars for ocean freight and cash transfers.

FIVE BILLION DOLLARS worth of loans to foreign governments through U. S. Export-Import Bank—another form of foreign aid—have been spent almost 100 per cent in this country. A bill to extend Ex-Im Bank lending authority by another two billion dollars is now before Congress.

Rep. Wright Patman (D-Tex.) has introduced an amendment to this bill. It would authorize Ex-Im Bank to consider applications for loans from depressed or underdeveloped areas of the United States. The purpose would be to help them out of the recession as the United States now helps underdeveloped foreign countries.

Ex-Im Bank does not want this added responsibility which would convert it from a sound financial institution into a direct relief agency. Actually, the Patman amendment has little chance of passage. It was introduced on the floor after being killed in committee.

But this indicates how far afield some of these proposals can get in trying to convert foreign aid into domestic aid when most of this foreign aid money is now spent in this country anyway.

Traffic Count Sends Parolee to Prison

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP)—A traffic violation has put William P. Hutto, 51, of New Orleans, back behind bars after more than 32 years of freedom as a parole violator.

State Highway Patrolman R. C. Dumas' hunch also figured in the case.

Hutto, a used car dealer in New Orleans, was visiting a daughter at Lyford, Tex. He said he came back to Texas to see his baby grandson. Hutto said he understood he had been paroled since 1925.

Dumas stopped Hutto on a Lyford street Tuesday for failing to yield the right-of-way. Since Hutto lacked a driver's license, the officer made a check to see if he had a criminal record.

State records in Austin disclosed Hutto failed to return to the penitentiary at Huntsville, Tex., after a furlough. Dumas arrested him on Wednesday at the daughter's home, and Hutto started back to finish serving a 5-to-15-year term for rape.

Frail Women Balk Holdup at Grocery

CHICAGO (AP)—Two frail women in their 60s were credited by police with befuddling a husky six-foot gunman's attempted holdup of their West Side grocery.

Police gave this account of what happened when Eugene Hart, 21, tried yesterday to hold up the store operated by the two sisters:

Hart, a 185-pounder, walked into the store and shoved his revolver into the abdomen of Miss Armenta Vest, 65.

Miss Vest quickly reacted by taking the gun away from the surprised gunman. In an ensuing struggle, the gun went off, sending a bullet into the ceiling.

The shot aroused the sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Heber, 62, who came out of a storeroom and snatched the handkerchief from Hart's face. She began knotting it around his neck.

The two sisters, who are each about five feet tall, then wrestled the gunman to the floor. Their screams attracted several passers by who notified police.

Hart, who had to be treated for a cut lip, was held for questioning.

No Comment: Marie

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Marie (The Body) McDonald is home—with "no comment" to questions about her new kidnapping story.

Smiling and mink-clad, the actress was met by two attorneys and a crowd of newsmen as she stepped off an airliner last night.

In Cincinnati while on a night club tour, she recently asserted that her husband, Harry Karl, engineered her kidnapping 14 months ago. Karl, a millionaire shoe manufacturer-retailer, termed this "ridiculous."

Marie claimed two men kidnapped her from her home, held her captive 24 hours and released her on the desert. The county grand jury investigated but voted no indictments.

Peron Denies Support

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Juan Peron denies that he supported successful presidential candidate Arturo Frondizi in the Feb. 23 elections in hopes of regaining power in Argentina.

"From the victory of Feb. 23 we have no booty to claim," the ousted dictator wrote to his supporters here. They made public last night two documents bearing Peron's signature and dated March 5 in Ciudad Trujillo, where Peron is in exile.

Peron ordered his backers to vote for Frondizi on the basis of "ethical motives which took into account the national interest and not a proposition of conquering any portion of public power," he wrote.

Snow Plays Havoc

Four inches of snow fell yesterday in New York City and up to 7 inches in the suburbs. Temperatures mounted to the 40s in the city and crews turned on hydrants to wash the streets of snow.

Saugerties in Dark
Saugerties police reported that a number of wires fell Friday and that power was off until about midnight in the eastern section of the village.

Some of the wires were described as "hot," one of them located near the school, but there were no incidents.

The steep Hill street road running through the village was tied up several times during the day because of heavy snow.

Robert Dalton, manager of the Kingston District of the New York Telephone Company (Kingston and a number of outlying sections) reported "no major failures" but said that the company had a lot of scattered trouble in outlying areas—Rosendale, Saugerties and High Falls.

He said about 300 lines were out at the height of the storm affecting some 700 or 800 subscribers.

Called Worst Storm
Trouble started in early morning and crews were out all day and last night.

Arthur W. Buddenhagen, resident manager of Central Hudson, reported that it was the "worst storm of the season" and caused the greatest damage.

Some 1,500 to 2,000 customers were without power in Kingston and Ulster County at one time.

Buddenbogen told The Freeman that there were 60 cases of trouble reported in the areas of Kerhonkson, High Falls, Saugerties and parts of Kingston with three substations and three transmission lines out at the height of the storm.

One of the substations is located at Malden. Power in the eastern section of the village of Saugerties and in the Malden area was out until about midnight.

200 Lines Still Out
Some 200 lines were still out of service this morning but power was expected to be resumed during the day.

Some people in the area, without heat due to electrical failure, had fires going in open fireplaces.

A spokesman at the Belleayre Mountain Ski Center said that the Governor had picked a bad time to come to the slope, that traffic was moving with difficulty and cars could reach the lodge only by use of chains.

The AP weather report from Albany said:

Weather experts said the storm, which began late Thursday night, was confined to the Hudson and Champlain valleys and hills on both sides. Little or no snow fell from Rome and Ulster westward.

Four Deaths

At least four persons died in traffic accidents blamed on the stormy weather.

The snow, combined with above freezing temperatures and rain, produced a wet mass that toppled trees, which in turn snapped power lines. Power was cut off during the night in parts of Schenectady.

Most of the snow had turned to a sea of slush today.

The sun broke through in New York City and the storm-battered Hudson Valley.

In Albany, where up to 14 inches fell, the Irish were ready to go on with the annual St. Patrick's Day parade. City crews had worked throughout the night to clear the streets.

The 25 inches of snow was reported at Tannersville, in the Catskills. Freehold, nearby, had 17 inches.

Thirteen inches fell at Middleburg and Cobleskill, in south-central New York; 10 at Glens Falls and 8 in the Adirondacks to the north. Poughkeepsie had 9 inches.

Area Chamber Is

ernoon program should be concluded by about 2:30 or 3 p. m.

The program had been planned for several months and is the reverse of the Business-Education Day when all of the teachers visited local places of business.

As consolidation is currently such an important issue, the committee has asked the school officials to utilize part of the 11 a. m. session for a presentation of this question.

Urges More Interest
The letter from Hood also contained this statement: "We all know many dedicated people are devoting their entire lives and careers to the education of our children. Are we properly supporting them? We owe them encouragement, expressed confidence and gratitude. We should show more interest in their problems."

Anyone interested in visiting the local schools March 25 is invited to do so. Reservations, as well as further information, may be obtained at the office of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce in the Governor Clinton Hotel building.

Chamber to Vote On Raising Dues To $30 April 8th

A proposal has been made that the basic annual membership fee of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce be increased for the fiscal year starting May 1.

The board of directors has mailed a notice to all members of the Chamber for a special meeting of the membership on April 8 at 7:30 p. m. At this meeting a proposed amendment to the by-laws raising the dues from $25 to $30 will be offered.

The purpose would be to increase the gross income and have additional funds to expand such activities as publicity, efforts to increase employment opportunities and other promotional activities.

A spokesman for the Chamber said that the dues rate has always been $25 per year in spite of the increases in all costs including salaries. However, any change in the dues structure must be voted by the membership.

Any members who care to bring up any other items of business at the April meeting are invited to do so.

Opens Campaign Today
HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Fulgencio Batista's candidate for president of Cuba planned to open his campaign for the June 1 elections today despite a tight gun rule on this island.

Former Premier Andres Rivero Aguerro scheduled radio and television addresses in his bid to succeed President Batista. Broadcasting and the press have been under rigid censorship since constitutional guarantees recently were suspended until April 26.

Congress ratified the suspension last night, giving authorities the power to break up public meetings and raid homes without warrants. The government also can jail Cubans indefinitely without filing charges.

Police Check Leads

MONTREAL (AP)—Police checked today on several leads to three daring gunmen who walked into a diamond importer's office during lunch hour yesterday and made off with an estimated $250,000 in gems.

Hermann Spitz, president of Spitz and Remer Co. Ltd., said the trio entered his office with guns drawn while he was talking with two friends. Two of the bandits wore handkerchief masks.

The thieves tied up Spitz and his friends, took a wallet containing $800 from one of them, then removed a wooden box containing the stones from a vault. They cut telephone lines in the offices before leaving.

Woman Froze to Death
ALBANY (AP)—A county coroner ruled today that Mrs. Florence E. Bean, whose body was found in her parked car Feb. 25, froze to death after falling asleep.

Coroner J. Gregory Nealon said the 50-year-old Schenectady woman apparently had intended to commit suicide. She failed in the attempt, he said, and died of freezing from overexposure. He ruled her death accidental.

Mrs. Bean had left her home Feb. 13. She parked her car in theatham shopping center, north of the city on Feb. 15, shortly before a blizzard hit the area.

Her body wasn't found until 10 days later, when snow had melted away from the sides of the car windows.

Nealon said there were cuts on Mrs. Bean's left wrist and on the left side of her neck. "Neither of these cuts could have caused her death," he said.

Mrs. Bean left a note asking that her death not be investigated. Her husband Leward, a general Electric Co. employee, said his wife had been despondent and in ill health.

Grace, Son Fine

MONTE CARLO (AP)—Princess Grace of Monaco and new-born Prince Albert spent a fine night and are in excellent health, palace physicians said today.

Dr. Emile Herbet said that the mother was recovering splendidly and one-day-old Albert was acting like a baby should—alternately crying, sleeping and eating.

His being breast fed, as was his big sister, 13-month-old Caroline.

There are usually about 10 fishsticks in an eight-ounce frozen package.

Rebels Say 150 Paratroopers Lost In Airfield Raid

SINGAPORE (AP)—A rebel broadcast today from 100 to 150 Indonesian government paratroopers were killed Wednesday in an attack on Pakanbaru's airfield in Central Sumatra.

A communique broadcast from the rebel capital of Bukittinggi made no mention of renewed fighting around Pakanbaru, an American oil center. Rebel sources in Singapore had said their forces went over to the attack at Pakanbaru yesterday.

The central government earlier this week said the airfield and Pakanbaru were captured without difficulty and the nearby oil fields were quickly overrun.

The rebel communique, signed by Col. Dahlan Djambek, the rebel interior minister, gave a different picture.

The communique said the government's paratroop attack on the Caltex oil center in Central Sumatra was preceded by the starting and bombing of two B25s and four fighters.

Twenty-two transports flew in the paratroopers, who were met by withering rebel fire that "killed between 100 and 150 invaders," it said.

It said attempts by the central government forces to send three warships packed with soldiers up the Siak River from the east coast failed in face of withering fire from shore batteries.

A similar event will be held next Friday at the Youth Center. The program will include: the Jilletes, Dale Natoli, Vincent Lasher, Robert Brown, Richard Hyatt, the Duces and others.

Music for dancing will be from records.

Boys and girls of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades are invited.

17 1/2-Inch Fall

Snow, Wind Rip New England; Traffic Clogged

BOSTON (AP)—A roaring northeast storm whipped by wind gusts up to 70 miles an hour battered New England yesterday and early today dumping up to 17 1/2 inches of snow, toppling power lines and clogging highway traffic.

"Up to 17 1/2 inches of heavy, wet snow covered some sections of Connecticut."

The New Hampshire Public Service Co. said the storm was one of the most destructive in its history. All but one of its main power lines was felled.

In Maine, the storm was described as "the worst of the year," as far as damage to power lines was concerned. One power line fell across the Maine Turnpike, forcing a temporary halt to traffic.

Vermont State Police reported "extremely hazardous" driving.

Northeastern Connecticut, western and central Massachusetts and southern parts of Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont received the heaviest snow.

Woman Froze to Death

ALBANY (AP)—A county coroner ruled today that Mrs. Florence E. Bean, whose body was found in her parked car Feb. 25, froze to death after falling asleep.

Coroner J. Gregory Nealon said the 50-year-old Schenectady woman apparently had intended to commit suicide. She failed in the attempt, he said, and died of freezing from overexposure. He ruled her death accidental.

Mrs. Bean had left her home Feb. 13. She parked her car in theatham shopping center, north of the city on Feb. 15, shortly before a blizzard hit the area.

Her body wasn't found until 10 days later, when snow had melted away from the sides of the car windows.

Nealon said there were cuts on Mrs. Bean's left wrist and on the left side of her neck. "Neither of these cuts could have caused her death," he said.

Mrs. Bean left a note asking that her death not be investigated. Her husband Leward, a general Electric Co. employee, said his wife had been despondent and in ill health.

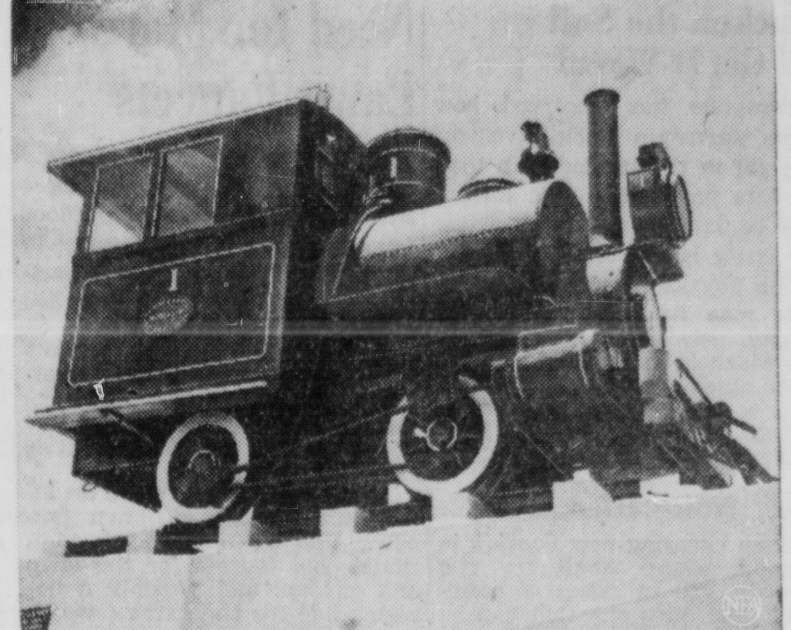

Grace, Son Fine

MONTE CARLO (AP)—Princess Grace of Monaco and new-born Prince Albert spent a fine night and are in excellent health, palace physicians said today.

Dr. Emile Herbet said that the mother was recovering splendidly and one-day-old Albert was acting like a baby should—alternately crying, sleeping and eating.

His being breast fed, as was his big sister, 13-month-old Caroline.

Savings and Loan Banks Deposits at $19,572,945

Net savings in New York State's 235 savings and loan associations rose $19,572,945 in February, bringing total savings in these thrift and home financing institutions to a new high of $3,125,402,756. According to the Savings Association League of New York State, this was $2,800,504, or 16.7 per cent, higher than the gain recorded in February a year ago.

A substantial decrease in withdrawals largely was responsible for February's net gain. David Ford, League president, said, "While new savings decreased 3.5 per cent," he explained, "withdrawals declined 8.3 per cent."

Early 1958 Increase
"For the first two months of 1958," the league official continued, "net savings increased $10,830,775—or 59.9 per cent—over the same period of 1957. Net savings declined $7,928,521, or 3.3 per cent, and withdrawals went down $18,759,296, or 8.4 per cent, below last year."

"In the 12-month period ended February 28, our associations gained $283,338,641 in savings, compared with $300,290,177 in the same period a year ago. The rate of gain dropped to 10 per cent for the 12 months just ended from 11.8 per cent for the 1957 period."

Suspends Civil Rights
OVIEDO, Spain (AP)—The government suspended civil rights throughout this northwestern coal mining region today to break a 10-day strike of more than 3,000 miners.

Notices in the local newspapers said the suspension was designed to avoid repercussions of the strike on Spain's economy.

Blacken the Soil To Get It Warm

Everyone has observed how much warmer a black pavement will get in the summer sun than a white pavement. The former may be painful to walk on, while the latter is only mildly warm.

The physical principle responsible may be employed in the garden, say horticulturists. A soil which is black will warm up more quickly in the springtime than a light color soil—so it makes sense to blacken light colored soil for earlier planting.

Need for More Lawn Faucets

Got enough lawn faucets around your house and garage? An adequate number of outdoor faucets makes it unnecessary to drag long lengths of hose to various parts of the lawn and garden in hot summer weather.

The location of such faucets should be given careful consideration in planning the plumbing system for a new house, the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau points out.

Many older houses have an inadequate number of lawn faucets. The installation of additional cold faucets for the lawn and garden, and possibly a hot water line for the garage, would be a great convenience.

When lawn faucets are installed they should be equipped with a stop and drain valve so that they can be shut off and drained when freezing weather arrives.

Some of the newer types of faucets are so constructed as to be non-freezing. With this type of a valve, no draining is necessary.

Cooling Kitchen

Many kitchens today have exhaust fans and it will help make this room more comfortable during hot weather if this fan is allowed to run during the afternoon when this room has absorbed a good deal of heat from the outside.

The 'Karyl' . . .

Six or Eight Rooms As You Desire

Rooms Eight
Bedrooms Four
Closets Thirteen
Dimensions 64' x 37'
Cubage:
House 34,684 ft.
Garage 3,012 ft.
Note: Upstairs Optional

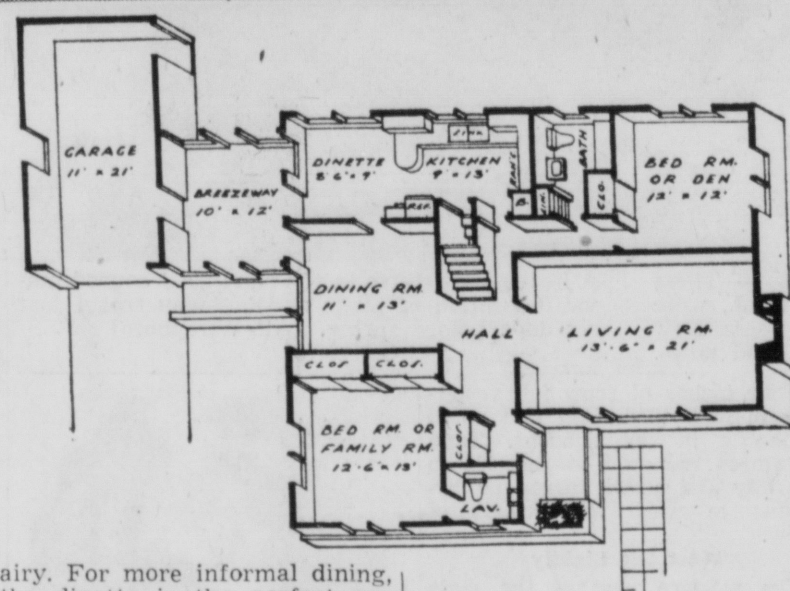

Today's Home of the Week presentation, the "Karyl" is ideal for the young married couple who may be planning a family in future years. It is neat and compact all on one floor, but allows for two upstairs bedrooms that may be finished now or at a later time if the need arises.

The outside of the "Karyl" may be all shingle or clapboard, or it may be a combination with stone or brick as illustrated. By using both clapboard and stone a distinctive outside appearance results that will win many nods of approval.

The "Karyl" presents a pleasant exterior. Its smart lines and compact layout will appeal to the prospective home builder at first sight. The off-center entrance girdled by a stone wall planter is unusual and effective. Inside there is a room vestibule and convenient closet. Immediately to the right of the hall lies the large living room. Its entrance would take the form of an archway rather than a door. This would afford a view of the hall as well as the dining room across the hall and the stairs. This effect would magnify the already generous proportions, 13'6" x 21', of the living room. A handsome, well-built fireplace faces the entrance. Special attention should be given to its design and materials because of its lovely position which will command and captivate the eye.

A picture window flanked by two smaller windows is located on the front-facing wall of the living room. There is a good deal of wall space and the living room of the "Karyl" will lend itself to imaginative decoration.

Convenience of Dining Room and Dinette Directly across the hall from the living room is the dining room. It is of good size measuring eleven feet by thirteen feet and is light, cheerful and airy. For more informal dining, the dinette is the perfect answer. The room is compact, yet not cramped. It measures eight feet, six inches by nine feet and within the immediate area of the table are located three large windows making the dinette one of the most pleasant and cheerful rooms in the house.

The Kitchen provides a substantial amount of counter space and easy accessibility to the utilities. Its dimensions are nine feet by thirteen feet and within its area are housed, in addition to the large broom closet and the counters, a large quantity of cabinet space. Two good-sized windows, will make kitchen chores seem much easier.

The breezeway, if closed in, will serve as a pleasant extra "casual" room, and if left open, an airy porch for the warmer weather. Its dimensions are far from skimpy, measuring 10 feet by 12 feet and it is conveniently located between the garage and the dinette. The garage, in the plans will house one car, but could be easily converted into a 2-car garage.

One or Four Bedrooms The "Karyl" will have one, two, three, or four bedrooms as the owner wishes. The front room on the first floor, measuring twelve feet, six inches by thirteen feet is an ideal master bedroom with four windows. There is a back room measuring twelve feet by twelve feet that will serve well as either a bedroom, den, library or family room if desired. It has one large closet, and again generous window allowances. The main bathroom is located in the rear of the house and features ample linen storage space.

Optional Second Floor

When the second floor is finished off in the "Karyl" two more bedrooms and a bathroom would be gained. This floor might serve as the children's "dormitory." The rooms are identical in size, each measuring eleven feet, four inches by twelve feet, eight inches. The bathroom is large and again, is equipped with ample linen storage area. Its location directly over the bathroom on the main floor, will make plumbing expenses less costly for the budget minded. Six additional closets are an additional advantage in completing the second floor. There are in all thirteen closets in the "Karyl" a feature few homes will offer.

Spring Good Period for Roof Check

Spring is traditionally house cleaning time, but it also should be house inspection time. A house takes a lot of punishment which can result in costly damage.

A good time to check the roof is in the spring after the first heavy rain. Look at the underside of the roof deck, check the rafters carefully, and look closely at areas around the chimney and soil stacks.

Any signs of dampness may mean the roof is leaking. It's wise then to call in a reputable roofing contractor for a professional inspection. Perhaps the dampness is caused by condensation and your attic simply needs more ventilation. But if the cause is a leaky roof, you may need a new one right away to prevent costly interior damage.

Don't be surprised if the roofing contractor doesn't offer to patch up the leaks. Reliable contractors know that patching an old roof is false economy, since a weathered roof generally has worn out uniformly. One leak means more will be coming.

In most cases, a roof of asphalt shingles can be applied directly over the old material, saving the expense and mess of removing the worn roofing. Homeowners who find they must re-roof also can spruce up the appearance of the house with one of the many colors available in asphalt shingles.

Even a Painter Can Go Wrong

There's a right and a wrong way to use even such a simple tool as a paint brush. Grip the brush on the metal ferrule with the handle between the thumb and forefinger.

Use a long steady, even stroke. Lift the brush gradually at the end of the stroke to feather out the edge. A heavy, forcing stroke does not distribute the paint properly and ruins the brush.

Dip the brush only half the length of the bristles into the paint. Tap off excess paint against the side of the can opposite to you.

Painting Toys

When painting children's toys or furniture, be sure the paint you are using is recommended by your dealer for that purpose. Don't use paint left over after your husband has painted the house. Read the label before starting the job. Young children chew on everything, especially when teething. The makers of chemical coatings supply manufacturers of children's toys with furniture paints for new products which cannot harm the youngsters.

Removing Wrinkles

If you find wrinkles occurring when you are hanging wallpaper just pull the paper away from the wall and put it back again. This will eliminate the wrinkles. Don't think that once the paper is in place the wrinkles can be removed because chances are they can't.

Resin Resists Heat

Silicone resins are used in making heat resistant coatings. They may be applied by brushing, silk-screening, spraying, dipping or rolling.

Cleans Tools Quickly

Clean your golf clubs, shovels and garden tools quickly and excellently with a wire brush attachment on an electric drill.

Use Keyhole Saw

To Remove Flooring

Old flooring can be removed without splitting, thereby saving the boards for re-use, with the aid of a keyhole saw.

After one board has been taken up to allow space for use of the saw, invert the saw and cut each board at an angle on each side of each joist. Use care not to cut through to the top surface of the flooring.

The cut portion is then chiseled just below the upper surface to free the board from the nail, which has been toenailed through the tongue into the joist.

Water Safely

Do not place a hose with the water running full force from it, into a furrow, as the water will wash away the soil and uncover the roots of nearby plants.

To break the force of the water, tie a sack or piece of canvas over the end of the hose or use one of the canvas attachments sold commercially.

Another good trick is to place the end of the hose in a large flower pot or jar, or a can punched full of holes, and let the water flow out of the container into the furrow, advises Ortho Educational Service.

Washing Closet?

Now is a good time to clean and air clothes closet. While shifting lightweight clothing to make way for winter items, take everything out of the closet. Wash it down with warm suds. Rinse and let dry. A fan will speed drying and aid in airing the closet faster.

Do You Remember by Sophie Mille.

As time goes on there will be more said and written about the coming 1959 Hudson-Champlain celebration. Mrs. Sam (Helen) Mann loaned me an official program of the Hudson-Fulton Celebration which took place September 25th to October 9th, 1909, in which Kingston played a large part.

I was not sure that they had a Commemorative Postage Stamp issued by the United States Post Office Department for the Hudson-Fulton Celebration. They do not give a reproduction of it in the book but tell about it. It is oblong in shape and the only other postage stamp issued by the Government equalled it in size up to that time, namely, the Colombian stamp. It was a "Two Cents" stamp and in the engraving included the Hudson River and Palisades in the background, the Half Moon and the Clermont and Indians in canoes. Fifty million of these stamps were printed, so no doubt some of the readers have seen them or possess them.

The Naval parade on the Hudson was one of the outstanding events and it took much time to prepare it. The U.S.A. had 16 battleships, 3 armored cruisers, 3 scout cruisers, 12 torpedo boats, 4 submarines, 2 parent ships, 1 tender, 2 supply ships, 1 repair ship, 1 torpedo vessel, 1 tug (Potomac) and 7 colliers. Totaling some 53 under the command of Rear Admiral Seaton Schroeder, U.S.N., in the parade around the replica of the Clermont. This 150 foot long and 18 foot wide vessel was built by the Hudson-Fulton Celebration Commission. The Netherlands was represented by Her Majesty's Ship Utrecht, under command of Capt. G. P. van Heeking Colenbrander, R.N.N., and by the replica of the little 63 foot (Amsterdam measure) Half Moon. It was manned by a crew from the H. M. S. Utrecht in costumes of the period which it represented. This colorful little ship was a present from the people of Holland to the Hudson-Fulton Celebration Commission. Sad to relate it was burned by vandals over here not so many years ago. Perhaps if the Clermont and the Half Moon were privately owned, and were a part of a Museum collection they would still be with us intact.

Germany was to be represented by turbine cruiser Dresden and training ships Hertha and Viktoria Luise and cruiser Bremen. Great Britain was to send a number of ships under the command of Admiral of the Fleet Sir Edward Seymour. France sent a squadron of three battleships. Italy sent man-of-war Etruria and schoolship Etna. The latter was to have on board the cadets of the Royal Naval Academy. Mexico sent a gunboat, Bravo. Cuba sent a revenue cutter, Hatuey. Argentina sent the warship, Presidente Sarmiento. Perhaps all the ships were not listed who did arrive at that printing.

Of course all the private vessels who were able, no doubt arrived on the scene from all parts of the country of which I never saw a listing. Perhaps there is none. The official landing and viewing stand in New York City was at 110th Street and Riverside Park where the Half Moon and Clermont were on public display before they went up the Hudson River.

Passage of Home Rule Bill Sought

ALBANY — State Comptroller Arthur Levitt today called for prompt consideration and passage of Governor Harriman's Home Rule Committee proposal to facilitate the annexation of territory by cities.

The measure introduced by Senator Begley (Intro 3618, Pr 4035) and Assemblyman Caffrey (Assembly Intro 4107, Pr 4431) has the full support of the bipartisan committee which includes representatives of the Association of Towns, the Mayors Conference and the County Officers Association.

Explains Bill
In calling for the passage of this measure Levitt explained, "At the present time, annexation may be achieved only by a special act of the Legislature. This bill would further the cause of home rule by conferring upon the persons most concerned, the residents in the area, a major voice in determining whether or not their area should be annexed by a city. It will also relieve the Legislature of the exclusive power of determining annexation."

Under the measure proposed by the committee, a petition to the comptroller signed by a majority of the voters in an area, would provide the initial step in an annexation procedure. If a majority of the qualified voters do not support the annexation by petition, no action is taken. However, if they do, the Governor appoints a hearing commissioner who holds a public hearing on the proposed annexation. At that time objections to the petition may be submitted by the Town Board or the city or any interested party.

Will Review Proposal
The hearing commissioner will review all of the aspects of the question, including the division of financial responsibility, and can approve or reject the petition. Additional machinery sets up powers relative to the status of the school district territory involved in the boundary change. If the hearing commissioner acts favorably on the petition, the Town Board still retains the ultimate right of vetoing the annexation, if it so desires. Finally, by local law, the legislative body of the city may annex the territory, subject to the approval by a majority vote in an election to be held in the area to be annexed.

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Music man Meredith Willson, who proved that wholesomeness can pay off on Broadway, is a clean-cut Iowa boy (56) who doesn't gloat over his success.

Although well he might. Wasn't his show, "Music Man," once dropped by the hit-making production team of Feuer and Martin? Didn't CBS bigwigs decline to back the show and predict it would be a flop? And didn't Victor, Columbia and Decca turn down chances to buy the record album rights?

Is Solid Smash
The answer to all three is yes. It is also true that "Music Man" is a solid smash, that the backers will get back their investment tenfold and the Capitol album is selling like crazy.

Smug? Not our boy Willson, the pride of Mason City. "I'm not sure I could have done 'Music Man' one day sooner than I did," said Willson, a one-man gang who wrote music, lyrics and book for the show. "I wouldn't be surprised if it didn't take 56 years of living."

He added that many well-wishers tell him, "I'll bet Feuer and Martin are kicking themselves because they didn't keep your show." Willson doesn't have the same reaction. He took his show, which he called "The Silver Triangle," to the producing team in 1953. "They flipped over it," the author recalls, "and Cy Feuer re-named it 'The Music Man.'"

Ernie Martin came to Hollywood to aid Willson in the rewrite. But the script worsened instead of getting better. The deal was called off. Meanwhile, back to the piano went Willson. Still obsessed by the story of a con man who sells musical instruments to citizens of a small town, he continued working on his own. It was hard work, and he turned out 38 songs, of which 17 ended up in the show.

One day, Martin again appeared out of the blue and offered to hire him to write the score for a new musical. Willson was tempted, but he couldn't part with the "Music Man."

Made Him Listen
He called producer Kermit Bloomgarden in New York. The producer hadn't heard of Willson despite his years in radio and TV, but the Feuer and Martin connection made him listen. Willson and his wife flew to New York for a midnight audition the next night. They sold it. Exactly one year later, "Music Man" and star Robert Preston were the hits of Broadway.

What will he do next? "Music Man" will keep him busy for a while. He's going to London soon to lay the groundwork for the English company—he realizes the task of finding enough midwestern draws among the dropped H's. Then he'll return here to prepare the road company. After that, perhaps he'll whip up another show.

I asked if he planned a return to radio and TV. "I don't know," he replied. "But I do foresee the day when I will eliminate myself as a performer."

AEC Bares More Red Nuclear Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two more Russian nuclear weapon tests have been reported by the Atomic Energy Commission. Both occurred yesterday, the AEC said—one north of the Arctic Circle and the other at "the usual Siberian testing site."

The announcement said neither was in the megaton range, as were three other Soviet nuclear blasts reported recently by the AEC. A megaton is the equivalent of a million tons of TNT.

Rite Brings Confusion

DAKAR, French West Africa (AP) — There was confusion in the desert town of Nouakchott when word arrived that French Overseas Minister Gerard Jacquet was coming to lay the cornerstone for a new public building. The problem was that there was not a single stone in the neighborhood—nothing but sand for miles. An Army jet plane was promptly dispatched a couple of hundred miles and came back in time with a suitable stone. Officials firmly declared that any more stones would be delivered by some cheaper means.

Look at the North and East hands only and put yourself in the position of the East player. You drop the deuce of spades on your partner's opening queen of spades lead and declarer wins with the king. He goes after the club suit next and your partner wins the third lead. This gives you a chance to make a discard.

What should it be? A quick use of the point count marks declarer with every missing high card except the jack of spades, already shown by your partner's queen opening. You need an immediate heart shift to beat the contract and what play could be more natural than a signal with the jack.

If you are playing with an ordinary partner you had best give this signal. It turns out that you won't beat the hand because South happens to hold four hearts to the eight and your high heart discard has given him a stopper.

If you are a good player and your partner is very good you don't need to waste a high heart to get the desired lead. All you

Moses Hopeful Bill Will Finish Power Argument

NEW YORK (AP)—Payment of 4½ million dollars to end local opposition to the development of the Niagara power project will require a larger bond issue to finance the project, says Robert Moses, chairman of the State Power Authority.

Moses made the statement yesterday in commenting on a bill introduced Thursday in the Legislature.

As Tax Relief
Under the bill the authority would pay three million dollars over a five-year period as tax relief to the city of Niagara Falls and towns affected by the project. The authority also would pay 1½ million dollars toward the cost of local improvements, such as roads, necessitated by the project. The 3-million-dollar expenditure, Moses said, "cannot be paid out of the 100 million dollars we borrowed temporarily."

The 1½-million-dollar expenditure, he said, would be for closely related local improvements "we have already assured the Federal Power Commission would be made."

Moses said he assumed the bill would end "the Niagara argument." He also looked forward to "full local cooperation in speeding the completion of the power project and related frontier improvements."

Parents' Delight Turns

First Child Into Showoff

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

At three years, Katie could take TV only in the small bits that she could chew her lamb chop. The only program she had really registered was one about animals.

One day the animal program was succeeded by a dancing one. At first it was just a vague blur of movement to Katie. Then it may have occurred to her that the movement was actually the waving arms and legs of ladies.

She must have found this discovery suggestive. For her mother was a lady and she had learned she could do some things like her mother such as drinking orange juice and wearing new dresses. Thus could have dawned on her the idea that she could dance like the TV ladies.

So alone in the living room, Katie scrambled from the sofa where she'd been sucking her thumb and joined them in their dance. Entering her mother was so entertained by the sight of Katie's dancing that she called Katie's father. In turn he called Katie's grandpa. All these adults showed such enthusiasm that the inevitable happened.

The dancing that had seemed to Katie as natural as drinking orange juice became special. And because the grownups' interest in it was so much bigger and more excited than hers, it became their production instead of hers.

Katie no longer entertains herself by dancing with TV ladies, and only performs when her parents demand that she show off before guests.

When she acquires a little brother or sister, they will not treat her like this.

Usually, it is only our first child whom we treat like a monkey. This is because we are not sure that our first child is really a functioning human.

When he shows interest in the mechanism of his music box, we feel the same half-flattered, half-amused astonishment we feel when a TV chimpanzee smokes a cigarette. We are fascinated by the monkey's assumption of our own humanity.

This delight is made of exactly the same material as the delight felt by Katie's relatives when beholding her dance. And it is one of the reasons why the oldest child tends to be a more aggressive showoff than a younger one.

By the time we've acquired other children, we're used to the idea that we can produce humans. But the oldest child often feels obliged to prove continually that he's human by giving us special performances.

Spillway Swept Away

BENNETTSVILLE, S. C. (AP) — An overflow spillway of a wild-life reservoir dam was swept away here early today, flooding a quarter-mile area including a Negro residential section.

Police Chief F. E. Davis said no deaths or injuries were reported in the flooded area immediately below the 10-foot high dam. Davis said about 300 Negroes awoke to find the waters of Lake Paul A. Wallace swirling beneath their beds.

Davis said a division dam, that runs down the middle of the lake also was in danger of breaking. Water on one side was being lowered so that a weak spot about six feet wide could be sandbagged. The spillway break was on the other side.

Ends Repair Racket

NEW YORK (AP) — The Brooklyn district attorney's office says it has broken up a television repair racket that cost set owners thousands of dollars.

The owner and an employee of a TV repair company were arrested yesterday and accused of mulcting scores of set owners through fraudulent repairs and padded bills.

Irving R. Stevens, 33, of Jamaica, Queens, owner of Telmont Television Co., and Albert Kaye, 49, of Elmont, a repairman, were charged with conspiracy and petty larceny. They were released in $1,000 bail each pending a hearing.

$700 'Spectacular'

GREENSBURG, Ind. (AP) — Frederick Craig, 15, and Lowell Greer, 13, can sympathize with the woes of Hollywood movie producers. The two youngsters recently finished shooting on their own $700 epic, complete with color and sound. They took one scene 40 times before it came up to their artistic standards. It was risky business, too. The film depicted life in a bee colony, and all the "actors" came fully equipped with stingers.

and candidate George Terpening Jr. for trustees, and Attorney G. Thomas Rea, candidate for police justice.

The CPP slate includes former village clerk Gerald L. Snyder, Hugo Knauer and Phillip Breithaupt Sr., for trustees and Albert L. Giannotti for police justice.

In Ellenville there will be a contest for the three seats on the Village Board of Trustees between candidates of the Republican and Democratic Parties. Seeking reelection on the Republican slate is Jerome Z. Elin, who is completing a one year term as trustee. He is seeking reelection to a two year term. His running mates are DeWitt E. Clinton seeking a two year term and Frank E. Greco, candidate for the one year term.

The opposing Democratic ticket will be headed by incumbent trustee Harry Thayer who is seeking reelection to his third two year term. Other candidates on the Democratic slate are Clarence A. Kuhlman for a two year term and Sol Sashin for the one year term.

Rosendale Contest

In Rosendale Democrat John H. Boyle endorsed by Democratic Mayor Catherine O'Leary will oppose Harold Schoonmaker on the Independent ticket for the two year term of trustee.

Candidates in New Paltz and Pine Hill will be running unopposed.

In New Paltz incumbent Henry W. DuBois and Harold M. Elsbree are running unopposed for two year terms.

Pine Hill will elect one trustee. Frank Sanchis is running unopposed.

The Citizens Protective Party in Saugerties has challenged the changes in village assessment rolls which according to CPP spokesmen have favored followers of the Independent Party.

During the Simmons administration reassessment was accomplished by Gokey Associates of Albany. Last March the entire CPP slate was defeated by Holmes' Independents giving him control of the board of trustees, by a 5 to 2 margin. Since that time David S. Cunningham of the CPP resigned increasing the margin to 6 to 1. Roy S. Helmsmoortel, CPP incumbent is not running for reelection.

Defended Changes

The Independent Party has steadfastly defended changes in the village assessment rolls as a means of correcting inequities created by the professional assessors authorized by the Somers' forces.

Nominating petitions of both parties were challenged this week but were settled by stipulation in the chambers of Supreme Court Justice Kenneth S. MacAffer.

Political observers in Ellenville indicated the elections in that village, controlled by the Democrats for the past three years, will be close. However it was predicted that the bingo proposition will pass by a large majority.

Mayor Asks Bus

Pledges Cooperation

"I hereby submit and suggest to you in the Traffic Control Committee, the Laws and Rules Committee, the Railroad and Bus Committee and the members of the Common Council in general to pursue the above described problem and feel free to discuss the complexities of the problem with me. Lefkowitz, Bush, Wilson Discuss Wine Sale Curbs

Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz recently conferred with State Senator E. Ogden Bush of Walton; Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, Woodstock and other legislators representing the grape producing counties in New York on the sales restriction of New York State wines in the State of Washington.

The attorney general scored the sales restriction in a statement following a conference this week with Solicitor General Paxton Blair and Walton Hamilton, an attorney representing the State of California.

Lefkowitz said that laws enacted by the State of Washington to restrict the sale of New York State wines are bringing about a "retrogression to colonial times when trade barriers, discriminations and intense commercial rivalries plagued the colonies."

The conference was called to discuss legal proceedings which will be taken by wine producing states affected by restrictions on the sale of out-of-state wines in the State of Washington. Said restrictions fix prices of imported wines at higher rates than local wines, control distribution and prevent free access of New York and California wines to the Washington State market.

Attorney General Lefkowitz will request permission of the Supreme Court of the United States to file a brief as amicus curiae in support of a complaint of the State of California attacking as unconstitutional the laws which restrict the sale of imported wines in the State of Washington.

Leopold Takes Off

NEW YORK (AP) — Nathan Leopold left today for Puerto Rico to take up a new life as a $10-a-month hospital laboratory technician.

The 53-year-old parolee, who served 33½ years in prison for his part in the 1924 murder of Bobby Franks, 14, spent 3½ hours at Idlewild Airport here.

He waited quietly for a plane to take him to the Caribbean island. At no time did he speak with reporters. Leopold was paroled from an Illinois prison on Thursday.

Leon's Young Togs Tenth Anniversary

Leon's Young Togs, 43 North Front Street, is celebrating its 10th anniversary this week.

The store, which has expanded tremendously during the past decade, was established March 11, 1948, as a boy's shop and shoe department.

In 1949 the store was enlarged by the addition of a girl's department. In 1950 an infant's department was added and in 1952 a pre-teen section on the second floor.

Leon C. Miller, who founded the store said today that it was first called Leon's Boys Shop but was given its present name when the girl's department was added.

Miller is a past president of B'nai B'rith, a member of the Lions Club, Jewish Community Center and the Masonic Order and is active in civic and service enterprises.

He is married to the former Selma Rothenberg of New York City. They reside at 171 Main Street and have two children, Neil, 12, and Jane, who will be six years old this Sunday.

Feel Ellis Site Is Not Suitable as Drug Hospital

ALBANY (AP)—Federal and state health officials feel that Ellis Island, the immigrant entry center in New York harbor, is not a suitable site for a narcotics hospital.

In a report yesterday signed by Surgeon General LeRoy Burney of the U. S. Public Health Service and Dr. Herman E. Hilleboe, state health commissioner, Ellis Island was said to be undesirable for any type of institutional care.

The report listed among the island's disadvantages that its plant was deteriorating, that its atmosphere was prison-like, and that it would be expensive to run a ferry.

School Staffs Are Given Explanation Of Consolidation

Dr. Earl F. Soper, superintendent of schools, announced today that the staff of the Kingston city schools, including teachers, principals, janitors, secretaries and cafeteria employees met in the high school auditorium this week to learn about the issues involved in the consolidation question.

Superintendent Soper presented the topic of discussion. He noted first the premise that the Kingston schools can no longer in all probability continue as a school system. It is probable the state would permit a rural centralization without Kingston, if the voters were to spurn the appeal recently made by the rural voters when they voted in favor of consolidation by a 3-1 margin.

Three Main Points

Dr. Soper also asked the staff to take three points into consideration when making their decision. He first emphasized the fact that larger school systems serve the cause of education better for the children and cheaper for the taxpayers. The extra state aid for Kingston would be at least $435,000 annually.

Speaking next on education and the curriculum, Superintendent Soper demonstrated that if 1,400 non-resident children left the Kingston schools it would be necessary to retrench, drop courses and cut back the educational program. Some 45-50 teachers would be released in the process. Selected grouping would be retarded, course offering in language might very well be cut back and shop courses would be reduced sharply.

Those interested in economy would in all probability favor consolidation since taxes would be less if Kingston consolidates than if Kingston goes it alone. The net loss in state aid and tuition received from the 1,400 non-residents equals some $490,000. This means a tax increase of $12.05. If Kingston consolidates, the extra state aid received would be $435,000 for the district. It would mean a modest increase of about $1.91 per thousand under consolidation.

Two More Forums

Dr. Soper encouraged all members of the staff to inform themselves to answer questions for friends and neighbors. He encouraged each member of the staff to come to the forums scheduled for March 19 and March 25 and to bring a neighbor or friend.

Hard to Sleep

Student Admits Killing Mother

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va. (AP)—Police said a high school freshman told them "he had a hard time sleeping some nights" after killing his mother and stuffing her body under his bed.

Dean Smith, 15, admitted the slaying in a written statement, according to Troopers H. E. Robinson and Jack Scaggs.

The officers said the boy confessed to striking his mother, Mrs. Grace Wims, 39, with a hatchet when they were alone in the family's trailer home last Saturday.

The crime was brought to light yesterday when a neighbor discovered the body under the bed. "I don't know why I did it," police quoted Dean. "Something just came over me."

Marshall County Prosecutor Everett Cox said he would file a murder charge against the boy today.

Mrs. Wims, her husband, Floyd, and her two children by a previous marriage, Dean and 10-year-old Ethel, came to Marshall County last month from Detroit.

Mrs. Wims disappeared a week ago.

Found Under Cot

The officers said that after Mrs. Wims was found wrapped in a bedspread under his cot, the boy admitted he struck his mother as she lay in her bed and then hid the body.

The family remained in their trailer during the following six days. Wims continued at his job as electrician and Dean went regularly to high school.

Kingston Savings And Loan First Quarter Report

Alfred D. Ronder, president of the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston, reported anticipated earnings for the first quarter of 1958 had been most satisfactory.

On the basis of these earnings, the following dividends were announced for the first quarter of 1958, ending March 31:

Weekly and monthly interest accounts 3 1/2 per cent per annum. Savings Shares 3 per cent per annum. Income Shares 3 1/2 per cent.

Ronder also reported the Association had taken the lead among local banking institutions on the proposal to make parking facilities available in the uptown business section. He said the Association had voted to participate financially in the project by making an investment in the uptown parking lot program.

"We feel that all banks will participate in this necessary facility which is badly needed in the business section. We feel that the parking lot proposition will be a good thing for the residents of all of Kingston and will be of great benefit to both business and banks."

Totals assets of the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston have reached an all time high and the total assets of the Association have increased almost a quarter of a million in the past 12 months.

In the past few weeks, Ronder said, there has been an increased demand for mortgages and there appears to be a considerable amount of activity in the residential dwelling market scheduled for this spring. The number of inquiries in regard to mortgage money for homes, he said, indicated there would be a lot of new construction during the early months of 1958.

Officers of the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston are: Alfred D. Ronder, president; H. Van Wyck Darrow, executive vice-president; S. D. Scudder Jr., secretary-treasurer; Edward M. Huben, assistant secretary-treasurer; Walter R. Stall, cashier; H. Edward Carter and Edward R. Dunn, assistant cashiers.

Soft, lace Italian tweed in brown-and-green is used for suit (right) with boxy jacket and straight skirt. Any one of these Huntleigh designs can be worn with or without a blouse or skirt. Open collars take well to jewelry accessories. All three are ideal for use in a travel wardrobe.

Good Taste Today

By EMILY POST

Author of "Children Are People" and "Etiquette," etc.

EATING WHILE LISTENING

Dear Mrs. Post: Because of my job, it is necessary that I go to more than a few business luncheons and dinners. Invariably I am seated next to someone who likes to talk, and I never get the chance to finish my meal. This could be attributed to two things: either other people eat faster than I do, or else they don't stop eating while being spoken to. In discussing this with an office associate, he said that he didn't think it was impolite to continue eating while someone was addressing the group or even speaking directly to you. I can't believe that he is right—especially about this last. I would very much like to have your opinion.

Answer: Never before have I heard of such a requirement as sitting with unmoving jaws while listening to a table-neighboring conversation. To talk with your mouth full, that is an offense. But if it were an offense to chew quietly while listening, no one would eat.

Pouring Tea

Dear Mrs. Post: I was asked to pour tea at our small club tea and was exhausted by the end of the afternoon. I didn't even get a moment to have any of the refreshments myself. Isn't the honor of being asked "to pour" a dubious one?

Answer: It is not intended to be an honor but is a favor asked only of intimate friends (or club members) who can be counted on to be gracious and capable. The main fault responsible for your exhausting afternoon was not having at least one other person "to pour" so you could have relieved each other.

Serving Dishes

Dear Mrs. Post: When the serving dishes are put on the table to be handed around from one to the other, where should the serving flatware be placed?

Answer: These pieces are put on the table ahead of time. Before passing a dish the serving spoon (and/or fork) is put in the dish and then left there.

How should table napkins be folded and what size is used for dinner? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Leaflet E-32, "Table Linen," includes this information. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

The numbers are not expected to be changed materially this year.

Lucian W. Hills farm labor coordinator of the Department of Agriculture and Markets pointed out that when these workers come into New York, many of them bring their families. Many of their wives also work in the fields. That means he said, that the children must be cared for. There are also problems of proper housing in the camps and education of school age children if their parents are here while schools are open. Religious and recreational phases of the migrants' lives are largely handled by communities served by them. It is greater community participation in the program that is being sought at the "idea" meetings now in progress.

"We want everyone with any interest or any ideas on the subject, to attend the nearest meeting," Hills said. "The committee assures everyone that full consideration will be given to every proposal. By working together, we are sure we can do a better job for our visiting laborers."

West Camp Couples Use Special Formula For Chowder Sales

A carefully guarded formula will be used in preparing the Lenten clam chowder for the annual sale to be held Friday at West Camp Parish Hall. The formula which contains no pork will be used by the Couples Club of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, West Camp. Chowder will be ready for sale 12 noon.

Patrons are requested to bring containers to avoid paying a deposit for a jar.

As the two or three sales each Lenten season are complete sellouts, orders should be placed early by contacting Mrs. John Engelin of Cementon on the Catskill phone exchange, or Mrs. Daniel Wynne of West Camp on the Saugerties exchange.

During the sales last year over 200 quarts were sold each time and many requests for chowder were refused due to the lack of supply.

Caruso's Insurance Five 'Loads Up' for Kingston Tourney

ALEX OSOWICK

Lawrence, Uhl Alex Osowick On Same Squad

One of the finest array of high school talent ever assembled will be seen during the Kingston Invitational Basketball tournament which gets underway Thursday at the Municipal Auditorium.

The players will be playing under the banner of Caruso's Insurance, and will include such scholastic greats as John Lawrence, Kevin Moloney, Jack Thompson of Liberty; Alex Osowick of Port Jervis; George Uhl, Kingston star and possibly Bill Hojahn of Amsterdam.

Bucky Primo, coach of the Insurance squad, said the boys have assured their appearance for the tournament, which according to Andy Murphy, director, is up for grabs.

Sickler's Out
Sickler's Delivery, defending champions, will not enter this year's classic, therefore making it a wide open affair.

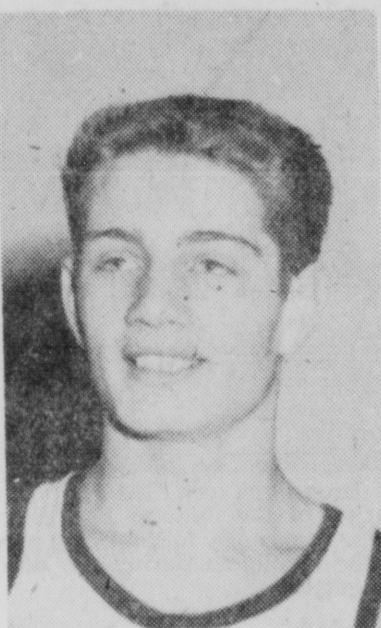

Byrne Chevrolet, champions of the Hudson Valley League, have entered and will most likely get number one seeding when the pairings are announced sometime next week.

Chevies Enter
The Chevies will have the same lineup that took them through the HVBL schedule undefeated, with the exception of Junior Kolokowski, former Siena star, and coach at Suffern High. He has been added to the roster which includes Ronnie Scheffel, Bud Smith, Bill Knott and others.

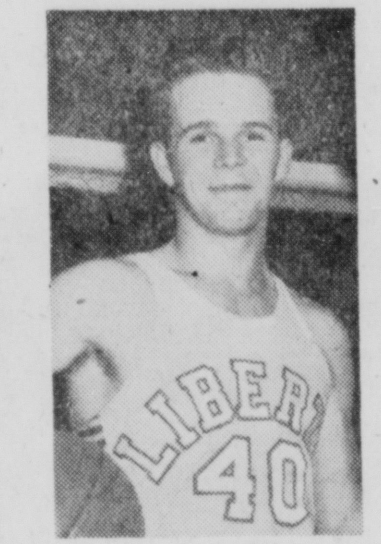

Johnny Lawrence and Osowick, of course, need little introduction to area fans. They are among the best scorers to come out of the DUSO League, and some of the feats they accomplished this year will be in the record books for some time.

Osowick, the Porter hook shot artist, set a new scoring mark with 62 points against Monticello. Lawrence, who trailed Alex in the scoring race by 33 points, paced the Redskins to an unbeaten season. It marked the first DUSO championship for the village squad, and the first time in 23 years that a Class A school hasn't finished first.

If Hojahn is able to play, area fans will see one of the smoothest performers in Eastern New York State. He is considered as the best player in the Capital District area. A tremendous scorer, he also is one of the lustiest drivers ever seen in high school ball.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By AL McCLANE
Fishing Editor

People often ask why fishing guides charge such high prices for their services.

Actually, a $15 to $25 per day pay scale isn't very much in this business. For one thing, a guide doesn't work every day; his season averages about five months of the year. Maybe less. And he may only be booked 50 per cent of the time. Bad weather in Florida this winter caused so many cancellations that some guides reported working one day out of seven. It's a tough business at best.

Lumping fishing guides in one group is impossible. Their jobs differ greatly, and the sportsman pays according to the type of service and equipment he gets.

There are local regulars who can show you where the fish are in a pond or stream just outside your door. This is the least specialized pro and he rates the minimum tariff. If the guide takes you back into wilderness waters by canoe or foot and does the daily camp chores also, then he earns a bit more.

In the far west, your guide may supply riding horses and even a pack train to reach the back country, while in other areas he may pilot his own plane. These extras rate considerably more money, usually in the $60 per day and up class.

The same goes for a regular charter boat skipper whose fuel bill and insurance demands that he ask better than $65 per day. This latter group doesn't include head-boat operators who handle 10 or more people at one time, nor sea skiff guides working the tarpon and striped bass trade. Their fees are lower usually.

There aren't many places left in the world today where a man can hire "anybody in town who isn't working" just to show him the fishing. Good fishing is off the beaten path and it must be organized in advance.

When a man arrives at camp today, he expects to find the boat ready, the skiff full of beans, the guide full of stories, the tackle rigged, and the fish hungry. It costs money.

All-Star Bowling Troupe at Ferraro's Bowlerama Tonight

The finest array of bowling talent in the Capitol District will do it up big for the March of Dimes tonight at 7 o'clock at Johnny Ferraro's Bowlerama.

The traveling pin entourage which has been leaving its trademark in bowling arenas in this section of the state, includes such stellar kegglers as Morris Cramer, Joe Donato, Skip Vigers, Punk Limmer, Johnny Walther, Joe Schmidt and others.

The bowlers are part of a troupe which has been circulating in the past several weeks from city to city. Each kegler is individually sponsored and they go from alley to alley for weekly exhibitions and free clinics.

Addison Jones, campaign director for the March of Dimes, has extended a welcome to all bowlers and fans to see the extravaganza. He expressed his gratitude in behalf of the Dimes effort, to John Ferraro, proprietor of the Bowlerama who has donated the lanes for the show.

Donato, the Schenectady sensation, is the current leader with 267.17 Petersen points after 56 games. Johnny Walther is second at 263.26, although tied with Donato at games won and lost (37-19) and Cramer is third with 258.21 points.

The free clinic follows the matches with six certified instructors demonstrating the fundamentals of bowling.

Mr. Jones remarked "This is one of the finest bowling shows ever seen in Kingston and we'd like to see a big crowd out. The March of Dimes will benefit and the folks will see a real show."

Strong, Third Highest Scorer At Springfield

Dick Strong, former Kingston High cager, has completed his first year as a member of Springfield College's freshman squad. He was the team's third highest scorer with a 14.1 average, and played a big part in the team's first unbeaten season since World War 2.

A major in physical education, Strong scored 141 points. His 4.65 average on field goal attempts was the team's second highest. The Springfield yearling tallied 120 markers from the floor and dumped in 21 free throws.

One of the highlights of the season was Springfield's 72-59 victory over the Providence College freshmen which halted a 30-game Rhode Island streak.

County Sportsmen Await Arrival of 10,000 Brown Trout

The first shipment of 10,000 brown seven-inch trout from the State Conservation Department for distribution by the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster County will arrive Monday, it was announced today by Chet Joy, federation fish committee chairman.

Trucks with the trout will be at Phenicia Hotel at 12 noon both on Monday and Tuesday. All clubs in the area are urged to send representatives to assist in the fish distribution in Phenicia, Olive and Marbletown area streams, Joy said.

Woman's Bowling Tourney Started In Schenectady

SCHENECTADY (AP)—Sixty bowling teams were on hand as the 25th annual tournament of the New York State Woman's Bowling Assn. rumbled into high gear today.

A record of 11,110 women are entered in the tournament, which opened last night and will continue on weekends through May.

Opening ceremonies were held here and in neighboring Rotterdam last night at the two alleys where the event will be held.

At the Woodlawn Bowling Center here, Schenectady Mayor Samuel Stratton started things rolling with a strike. But at the Towne Bowling Academy in Rotterdam, Mayor William M. Turnbull of Scotia could manage only a gutter ball.

After the ceremonies about 20 local teams rolled in local competition.

Too Hot to Handle

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Len Johnston, outfielder who has led the Richmond club of the International League in stealing bases, found some too hot to handle in the off season. He was sitting down in a restaurant when some rags near a grill burst into flames. Johnston tried to put out the fire but hot grease dripping down stopped him. He was treated for burns on his hands.

We Want Patterson, Yells Anthony Pilot

By MURRAY ROSE
NEW YORK (AP)—What a difference one fight makes! Six months ago Tony Anthony was knocked out by Archie Moore in a bid for the old gaffer's light heavyweight crown. Today the lean, young New Yorker was seeking a crack at heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson.

"We want Patterson," shouted manager Ernie Braca after his 23-year-old punching protegee stopped awkward wild-swinging Yvon Durelle of Canada in 31 seconds of the seventh round of a television thriller at Madison Square Garden last night.

Floored in the first round by a right and left to the head, Anthony came raging back to stagger the 28-year-old fighting fisherman repeatedly, floor him in the sixth and bomb him in the seventh. Referee Ruby Goldstein intervened while the game Canadian still was standing.

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP)—Poker-faced Ron Delany, irked at being regarded as a "running machine" that can be turned on and off, really was turned on last night as he sped to a new world indoor mile record.

Ireland's 1,500-meter Olympic champion electrified an International Amphitheatre crowd of 10,136 by winning the featured Bankers' Mile of the Chicago Relays in 4:03.4.

That shaved two-tenths of a second off the record Delany has been flirting with for two years, the 4:03.6 mark set by Denmark's Gunnar Nielsen in New York in 1955.

Delany started off last night in typical fashion, permitting the others in a four-man field to set the early pace.

"When I heard the field announcer call out a 3:05 time for Phil Coleman at the three-quarters, I decided this was it," the gaunt Irishman explained.

Opened Up

"I was only a stride behind Coleman and I felt stronger than any time this year at that stage of a mile race. I could feel the energy flowing and I really opened up." The Villanova senior certainly did open up, with a 58.4-final quarter that left the capacity crowd in a frenzy as he whizzed home some 35 yards ahead of Coleman.

Delany, whose best previous indoor mile was 4:03.7 in the National AAU Meet last month, said he wasn't particularly thrilled by the new record.

Not a Machine

"People expected me to break the record all year," he said. "I'm not a machine. I can't be turned on and off. Last night, I just felt good at the end of three-quarters and I decided I could do it."

Hayes Jones, Eastern Michigan hurdling star, won the 60 highs in 7.0 seconds flat. This was announced as a new world indoor mark. But Mill Campbell, former Indian track great, had the same time for the 60 tall sticks in last year's Millrose games in New York.

In the high jump, Villanova's Phil Reavis cleared 6 feet 10 1/4 inches to retain his title and miss the existing world indoor mark by a half inch.

Foe of Onteora, Warwick Winner At NFA Tonight

Liberty High moved into the finals of the District 9 sectionals last night in easy fashion by disposing of Suffern in a dull 61 to 36 affair at Middletown.

The Redskins now await the result of tonight's Onteora-Central and Warwick High fray at Newburgh Free Academy. The winner takes on Liberty in the District 9 Class B finals at Middletown Tuesday night.

The DUSO champions toyed with the Rockland County aggregation after steam rolling to a 14-0 lead and holding a 20-7 advantage at the quarter.

Stage Freeze

But in the second quarter, Coach Bob Van Slyke called for a "freeze," an unprecedented move for the high scoring unbeaten quintet. This defensive measure paid off since the Suffern team scored only five points, while the Redskins hit for six, but it really made it a dull affair to watch and at half-time many of the spectators started to file out of the hall.

Johnny Lawrence, the Redskins chief scorer, gave a brilliant performance. Hampered, somewhat, from the field because of constant fouling, he made up for it at the line where he converted 14 charity tosses and with six fields, finished the night with 26 points.

Run Up 14-0 Lead

The champions, in registering its 21st straight victory, were red hot in the first five minutes hitting for seven successive goals for a 14-0 lead before Frank Stead broke the ice for Suffern with a foul toss. After two quiet middle periods, the Redskins turned on the steam in the final period with a 25-point production.

Chevies - Pine Plains, Forte and Co. Foe of Fishkill Here Monday

The Byrne Chevrolet-Pine Plains game slated for Poughkeepsie last night was called off because of the weather, but the postponement worked out for the best since a gigantic doubleheader pitting those two teams, and Poughkeepsie and Fishkill will be played in the Municipal Auditorium Monday night.

The Bridge City tilt will get underway at 7:15 and such stalwarts as Chet (The Jet) Forte and Junior Kolokowski will be in the Dutchess team's lineup against the lumber squad. It will be the first playoff for the two teams in the best two out of three series in the Hudson Valley circuit.

The Chevies can clinch a finals berth by taking Pine Plains. But the task will be tougher than it was in their first round outing. The Bombardiers will have Ted Dwyer back in the lineup as well as Bob Knight, a former member of the fabulous Harlem Globetrotters and New York Knickerbockers.

Supervisors OK $1,000 To Purchase Pheasants

Ulster County Board of Supervisor's Enabling Act fund for conservation amounting to $1,000 was earmarked for the purchase of pheasants by a 9 to 7 vote of the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster County at a meeting in Saugerties Thursday night.

Saugerties Fish and Game Club were hosts for the county sportsmen's meeting held in Saugerties Municipal Building.

The vote authorized the use of the annual allotment for the stocking of pheasants in county areas suitable for the breeding of the game birds.

It was recommended at the meeting that the stocking of pheasants take place in the spring rather than the fall season in order to improve the chances of breeding.

The allotment last year was used for stream improvement throughout the county.

Conditions Report

Chet Joy of the fact finding committee on stream improvement reported on conditions in the area and stressed the vital need of government funds for preservation of local trout streams. Many serious conditions prevail at present and it was suggested that all clubs contact their assemblymen and senators in seeking financial aid for stream improvement as well as to help in the prevention of serious floods, he said. To date the streams have been taking care of the snow runoff but heavy snows back in the mountains are expected to gradually increase the flows, Joy said. He read a letter from the Federation secretary seeking Governor Harriman's support of the program.

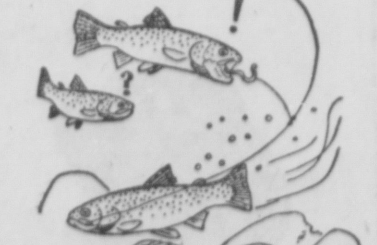

Bear Season

The recommendation of the Phenicia Fish and Game Club for extension of the bear season until December 31 was unanimously adopted. The proposition would increase the bear season 13 days. The resolution will now be directed to the State Conservation Council for presentation to the Legislature. The Phenicia resolution concerning the catch of 10 fish of any size was tentatively approved by the members but was sent back to the club for minor revisions. It will be presented to the Federation at a later meeting.

Herbert Bayard Swope, journalist, and Harrison Williams, electric corporation executive, were the finalists in a geographic game, wherein the latter was called up to mention a country, city, etc., starting with an "E". Williams pondered and, with some hesitancy offered "Elyria". "Unless you refer to 'Ilyria' of Greek mythology," Swope said, "I challenge you. That's spelled with an 'I'. Where is Elyria?" Williams hesitated, pondered again, and cautiously whispered, "Ohio. That's it—Ohio." Williams considered it carefully and took the bet which was finally increased to $10,000. "Okay," Swope agreed, and reached for the atlas. "Don't bother," Williams told him. "Why not?" Swope replied, "I want to look up Elyria and see if it's in Ohio." "Don't bother," Williams confessed, "I was born there."

"Good-bye, my dear," said Dr. Holmes, "and when Mother asks you where you have been, tell her you have been walking with Oliver Wendell Holmes."

"And when your folks ask you where you have been," said the child, "tell them you were walking with Mary Susanna Brown."

Viola—Did you tell her that what you said was in strict confidence? Ruth—No; I don't want her to think it was important enough to repeat.

CHANGING FACE OF THE ARAB WORLD—King Mohammed V of Morocco has proposed another federation of Moslem nations, this to join Morocco, Algeria and Tunisia. He asked that a conference of leaders from the three states be held at "an opportune moment" to outline the form such a union should take. A union along the lines of the recent Egyptian-Syrian and Iraqi-Jordanian mergers has been urged by nationalist circles as a possible counterweight to the influence of Egypt's Gamal Abdel Nasser, now president of the United Arab Republic. Although the Moroccan king has never denounced French rule in Algeria, he has warned that unless a peaceful solution to the French-Algerian dispute is soon found, Morocco could no longer maintain its reserved position. His proposal for the new federation indicates he does not consider France capable of achieving that solution, and that a merger among North Africans may be necessary.

Harriman Vetoes Bill Prohibiting Vacancy Rights

ALBANY (P)—Gov. Harriman today vetoed a Republican measure that would have lifted the governor's long-standing right to appoint such county officers as clerk, district attorney and sheriff when vacancies occur.

The bill, sponsored by Assemblyman Charles A. Cusick of Cayuga County, would have placed such appointments in the hands of county boards of supervisors. The Democratic governor still would have filled vacancies to county judicial posts, subject to Senate consent.

In his veto message, Harriman said such a bill "whittles away at those powers which over the years have resulted in higher standards in local governmental administration."

Meanwhile he approved, among others, a bill increasing from $200 to $250 the amount cities or counties could spend to bury members of the armed forces and their families. It was sponsored by Assemblyman Wilson C. Van Duzer, Orange County Republican.
